

« HORSEING AROUND

The beautiful, wild white horses of the Camargue star in Stella McCartney's AW23 campaign – alongside a certain model called Kendall Jenner. It tells the story of the brand's 'Horse Power' collection, which was inspired by the transformational connections between humans and horses. 'I knew this season's Stella girl had to love horses as much as I do,' said the designer. stellamccartney.com

⤴ LIVE AND LET PIE

To mark its tenth anniversary this autumn, Rosewood London is partnering with Anya Hindmarch. We'll be stopping by The Pie Room to take away one of her 'pies with eyes' – matching keyring available on the Rosewood website. Then, on 13-14 October, Anya will be popping up in the hotel lobby with limited-edition merch as well as much-loved pieces from Anya Hindmarch's Labelled collection. » THROWING SHAPES

Mulberry is going in all kinds of new directions this season, with inspired designs, fresh colour palettes and updated materials. Our pick? The all-new Iris Swirl bag, an asymmetric, classic-but-oh-so-cool take on the well-loved shoulder bag, £1,450. mulberry.com

IN THE DIARY

It's (almost) that time of year again, so here's one date for your diary: the Christmas Cotswold Fair, with glorious gift ideas over 220 curated stalls, from luxury local and British brands. 6-9 November, cotswoldfair.com

The Fair offers over 220 stalls of luxury brands, perfect for your Christmas shopping

THE CHRISTMAS COUNTDOWN BEGINS...

Make sure the Christmas Cotswold Fair is in your diary this season

But it's still summer! We hear you cry. Despite the September sunshine, autumn is just around the corner... and with it the countdown to the festive season.

Start planning Christmas 2023 by putting the Christmas Cotswold Fair in your diary – and make sure it's your best yet.

The much-loved event is celebrating its 38th year in 2023, and to mark the anniversary it is moving to a brand new home: Evenlode Grounds, in the heart of Evenlode Valley near Moreton-in-Marsh. As usual, ten percent of ticket and refreshment sales will be donated to the charity WellChild.

The annual Fair will host over 220 stallholders, 40 percent of which are new for 2023, from across the Cotswolds and beyond, in three specially erected marquees.

'We are so excited to be setting down roots at Evenlode Grounds,' says fair organiser Lucy Greaves. 'The Christmas Cotswold Fair is a staple event in the area, marking the beginning of the festive period, and we cannot wait to be able to expand and grow into our new home, offering so much more than we have ever before.'

In addition to the new venue, The Christmas Cotswold Fair will be full of bursting with an extensive programme of workshops and demonstrations, book signings, author meet and greets, and, of course, the luxurious Cotswold Grey VIP Lounge with delectable dishes from The Potted Goose Café.

'This year's Fair will be bigger and better than ever before,' continues Lucy. 'Alongside our incredible array of stalls and daily events, we will be celebrating delicious, local food, prepared to perfection on site, from a number of independent and special suppliers. We look forward to welcoming stallholders and visitors in November for the ultimate festive shopping experience.'

A supporter of WellChild for 30 years, the Christmas Cotswold Fair has become critical in raising funds for the charity, which supports children and young people living with complex medical needs, giving them and their families a chance to thrive at home rather than in the hospital. Last year, the fair raised £120,000 – and it hopes to donate even more to the charity in 2023.
